

Yo practico

A. What would you say in the following situations? Take turns saying it to the class.

1. It's 7:45 in the morning. You are on your way to school. You run into your neighbor, señora Fraga, who is on her way to her work. You say:
2. While you are playing in your yard, a woman stops and asks you where the bus station is. You give her directions and she thanks you. You say:
3. It's hot. You are playing soccer with your friends. You have been playing for half an hour. You feel like drinking lots of water. You say:
4. It's 3:25 in the afternoon. You are almost home from school and you want to get there before a cartoon that you like comes on at 3:30. You run into a couple of friends who stop to say hello, but you have to keep walking. You say:
5. It's not hot. It's not cold. It's not windy. It's sunny and pleasant. You say:
6. You just learned that the art project you worked on was chosen among the three best in your class. You say to your partners:
7. Your cousins from Texas were visiting your family for a week. They are sitting with their parents in a taxi in front of your house. They are about to leave for the airport to fly back to Texas. The taxi starts moving and your cousins wave farewell. You say to them:
8. You are in math class. You forgot your ruler at home. You need one, though, to do an activity in your math workbook. The teacher gives you a ruler. You say to her:

Nombre _____

Yo juego

Here's a chance for you to draw a comic strip! You call your friend Leticia on her cell phone. She's at the beach, and she tells you a lot of things about what she's doing. Here's what she tells you:

- what she's wearing
- what the weather is like
- how she usually gets to the beach
- what she is going to do after the beach
- what her nose, face, and arms look like because of the sun
- how she is feeling

Make a comic strip with six panels. Draw each thing that Leticia tells you about. Then share your comic strip with your classmates, using Spanish to tell them the story about Leticia's day at the beach.

Describe in Spanish your pictures.

The form consists of six empty rectangular boxes arranged in two rows of three. Each box is intended for drawing a scene from a comic strip based on the instructions provided.
